

BEAT UPDATE – 26/11/24.

The Freeman police beat team currently consists of SGT Liz Crowson, PC Joe Mclean- Lee, PC Harry Singh, PC Chloe Oliver, PCSO Spencer Clayton and PCSO Sam Donington. Our current beat priorities are tackling Anti-Social Behaviour (ASB) in open space areas and specifically on Lansdowne Road, as well as tackling drug use and supply in the community.

We are pleased to inform you that issues on Lansdowne Road have been much improved in recent weeks, we have spoken door to door with residents and worked with the care home on the street which has led to an arrest with charges and strict court bail conditions being placed on others who were involved in issues on the street.

We have continued to conduct visible patrols in open space areas and across the beat, a joint multi agency meeting was recently conducted on the St Marys Open Space to ensure the area is kept clean and remains a safe space for residents and others.

The team have been made aware of concerns on Knighton Fields Road West after the newly constructed building was recently opened and is being used to support individuals with housing requirements. PC Joe has met with staff at the location and a report has been opened to monitor the area with additional patrols being conducted.

As part the Clear Hold Build/Safer Saffron initiative several drug warrants have been executed since its launch resulting in a significant number of drugs being seized and destroyed. Last week officers attended an address which resulted in a large amount of cannabis an offensive weapon and an illegal E-Bike being seized.

The team remain committed to being visible, dealing with those who cause the most harm to the community and making the beat a safer place to live and work.

If you wanted to speak to me directly to raise any concerns or discuss issues with me face to face, then I will be here (Aylestone Leisure Centre) on Monday 9th December in the front reception area from 10:00/11:00.

For more information on what the local team are doing please see a copy of our monthly newsletter which is placed at reception.
